

The Breeze

James Madison University

Thursday, November 29, 1984

Vol. 62

No. 24

McMillin 'relieved of duties'

By Kerry Coffelt
assistant sports editor

Challace McMillin, the only head football coach JMU has had in the program's 13-year history, was fired Nov. 19.

The decision, announced by Athletic Director Dean Ehlers at a formal press conference that day, ended weeks of speculation about McMillin's future.

What started as a rumor in the Richmond Times-Dispatch nearly a month ago ended in harsh reality for McMillin, who has a career record of 67-60-2, including a 6-5 season in 1984. However, since the Dukes moved from Division II to Division I-AA in 1980, his record is 24-30.

In a prepared statement read at the press conference, Ehlers said: "... for the great contributions he has made to JMU and its football development, we will always be grateful to Challace McMillin.

"During the last few years, however, JMU has moved to a higher level of competition and it appears that we have reached a plateau in terms of success. In order for the JMU football program to move beyond that plateau and to achieve a higher level of success, it is the feeling of the University that a change must be made on the coaching staff.

"Accordingly, I am announcing this afternoon that Coach McMillin has been relieved of his duties as head football coach at JMU."

The decision to fire McMillin was made by Ehlers and JMU President Ronald Carrier. According to Ehlers, McMillin was told that he was fired before the Dukes' final game at Towson State Nov. 17.

"It was a decision made in conference with the president," Ehlers said. "We met on a number of occasions."

The final meeting took place a week before the press conference and it was decided that McMillin was to be fired.

Staff photo by Stephen Jaffe

Dean Ehlers, JMU athletic director announced Nov. 19 the firing of JMU football's head coach Challace McMillin. McMillin is the only football coach JMU has had. He is the first coach of any sport to be fired from JMU.

"Dr. Carrier and I met on Monday (Nov. 12) and I told Challace last Wednesday (Nov. 14)," Ehlers said.

McMillin has been unavailable for comment about the firing except for a prepared statement from him read by Ehlers the day after the decision was announced.

In that statement McMillin said: "Our goal was to make JMU football a part of the athletes total experience. We tried to make sure that the young men who participated under our leadership were finer and more decent persons for having done so.

"Being the best you could be, being a competitor was stressed everyday. But we tried never to place the value of a win above that of instilling the highest ideals and character traits in our student athletes.

"WE WERE WINNERS ON AND OFF THE FIELD.

"I am proud of what we have done."

According to Ehlers, McMillin was asked if he wanted to resign.

"We asked him about that," Ehlers said. "He made the comment that he preferred that we do it this way."

McMillin just completed the second year of a four-year contract and JMU will honor that. According to Ehlers, McMillin has been offered another position at the University.

"He (McMillin) is currently considering that offer and I would prefer not to specify the position he has been offered until he determines whether or not to accept it," Ehlers said.

Yesterday, McMillin said he has not made a decision on the position but indicated that one would be made "probably by the first of the year."

He had no further comment on his dismissal.

McMillin's seven assistant coaches have one-year contracts that expire Jan. 31, 1985. Ehlers said those contracts will not be renewed, but the new head coach will have the option of rehiring any of them.

Ehlers said no decision has been made about a new head coach yet, but he is hopeful the position will be filled by Jan. 1.

"We have made contacts, (but) we have not set up any appointments," he said.

By Sandy Stone
staff writer

Man arrested for thefts at East Coast colleges

After hitting college campuses along the East Coast stealing money from dormitories, a Pennsylvania man was apprehended at the College of William and Mary after a brief visit to JMU.

Campus police reported that Robert A. Jacobs, 28, of Reading, Pa., was arrested in Williamsburg late Nov. 15 on warrants obtained by University of Richmond authorities.

Jacobs was charged with 28 counts of petty larceny and three counts of breaking and entering in connection with thefts of cash that occurred in University of Richmond dorms and fraternity houses Nov. 15.

A petty larceny charge against Jacobs also is pending at JMU after information was obtained from University of Richmond authorities.

Jacobs is in a Richmond jail awaiting trial.

Jacobs apparently had been at JMU from Nov. 13-15 and stolen money from the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity house at South Main Street, police said. A Lambda Chi Alpha member reported Nov. 14 that a man had entered his room at 10:30 a.m. and inquired about renting a room.

He described the man as white, 5'9", with light brown hair, and wearing a dark rugby shirt, blue jeans, a jean jacket and a red baseball cap.

The man told the fraternity member he was a transfer student

See JACOBS page 2 ▶

Dance
dramatics

The JMU Folk Ensemble learned the Mexican dances in their program from a visiting expert from Mexico.

10

Coach
search

Possible candidates are looked at as JMU searches for new head football coach to replace Challace McMillin.

13

Jacobs

► (Continued from page 1)

from Michigan and that he was looking for a room to rent.

The two men talked for a few minutes, and then the fraternity member left his room to take a shower. Upon returning the man was gone, and the fraternity member discovered that $50 was missing from his wallet and $4 from the top of a dresser.

The same day, campus police received a call from University of Virginia campus police warning them about Jacobs, who had been hitting college campuses along the coast stealing money, wallets and drugs.

Through a campus police telephone network, which includes 28 institutions statewide, JMU police discovered that the description of the man that had been at Lambda Chi Alpha fit the description of Jacobs.

Police said there have been no other reports of thefts that occurred during the three-day period that Jacobs apparently was here.

While Jacobs was here, he was registered at a local hotel under an assumed name from a credit card he allegedly had stolen from a Boston College student, police said.

Police said Jacobs was driven to University of Richmond Nov. 15 by a JMU student, who happened to be visiting there for the weekend. The student did not know Jacobs. The same day, Jacobs went by cab to William and Mary.

Jacobs was apprehended by William and Mary police after his three-day stop at JMU and half-a-day stop at University of Richmond. University of Richmond police found out that Jacob's next stop was Williamsburg and notified William and Mary officials.

Jacobs was not charged with any thefts at William and Mary, but Williamsburg officials said he had a wad of bills three inches thick in his wallet. They would not disclose the amount.

Police said Jacobs told them he has made his living by traveling from campus to campus stealing from dorms for the past four years.

Orienteering club wins awards

Six members of the JMU orienteering club placed in the National Long-Orienteering Championships Nov. 17.

Three now hold national titles in their divisions — Msgr. Gale Lock in the men's open, Wayne Stilwell for men 19-20, and Amy Benish in the female open.

Also placing were Chris Hickey and Eric Eppley, second and third respectively in the men 19-20 category, and Ann Inhat, third in the female open.

Cpt. Chris Kentch, the sponsor of the club, said, "As new as the team is, they did outstanding."

Kentch called it a "tremendous accomplishment" for the team, which has been together only two and a half months.

The team competed on the yellow course, the second most difficult of four levels.

Other JMU participants were Kentch, Niels Pemperton, Chris Gatti, Ann Straszceki, Patti O'Such and Mary McNeerney.

A total of about 215 individuals competed, Kentch said.

Antique Row
ANTIQUES
Next to Sovran Bank on Court Square

Christmas Gifts for Everyone

Gold Chains, Sterling, Ornaments, Glassware, China—The unusual gift at low prices.

434-1833

The Breeze

Founded 1922

Editor Constance Walker Managing editor Gwen Farlee Business manager Marion McQuiston News editor Bill Goodykoontz Assistant news editor Mark Miller Assistant news editor Donna Sewyers Features editor Cay Fultz Assistant features editor Allison Colby Sports editor Scott Tolley Assistant sports editor Kerry Chiffet Editorial editor Pat Plummer Assistant editorial editor Kristi Mula Photo editor Greg Fletcher Wire editor Missy Epps Production manager Jay Theado Administrative assistant Donald Brown Assistant business manager Dawn Jarrell Ads design manager Theresa Walling Assistant ads design manager Dolores Henry	"To the press alone, chequered as it is with abuses, the world is indebted for all the triumphs which have been gained by reason and humanity over error and oppression." — James Madison The Breeze is published Monday and Thursday mornings and distributed throughout JMU. Mailing address is The Breeze, Communication Arts Department, JMU, Harrisonburg, Va. 22807. For advertising, call 568-6596. For editorial offices, call 568-6127. Comments and complaints should be directed to Constance Walker, editor.	Advisers David Wendelken Flip De Lute Alan Neckowitz
---	---	--

Applications for The Breeze's 1985-86

Editor
Managing editor
Business manager

Now are being accepted. For further information and job description, contact Constance Walker, editor, or Gwen Fariss, managing editor. Look in the next issue of The Breeze for further detail. To apply, submit a cover letter, resume and any clippings.

Deadline is January 20, 1985.

Ciro's

Best Prices In Town

Sicilian Pizzas	SM	LG	Neapolitan Pizzas	12"	14"	16"
Cheese, Tomato Sauce	4.50	6.50	Cheese, Tomato Sauce	3.75	5.00	5.50
1 combination	5.00	7.50	1 combination	4.25	5.85	6.30
2 combination	5.50	8.50	2 combination	4.80	6.70	7.25
3 combination	6.00	9.50	3 combination	5.35	7.55	8.00
4 combination	6.50	9.75	4 combination	5.90	7.80	8.60
w / any 5 items	7.00	10.00		6.45	8.10	9.00

Beer ON/OFF Within Walking Distance of JMU 778 E. Market St. (434-5375)

$1.00 off

any large pizza with this coupon

Arrests tied to stereo thefts

By Sandy Stone
staff writer

Two Harrisonburg residents have been charged with two counts of petty larceny and five counts of vandalism in connection with a series of stereo thefts from cars and vandalism to cars that occurred in early October.

Campus police arrested and charged Blake W. Rhodes, 20, of Harrisonburg and Jon K. Hazen, 18, of Harrisonburg with breaking into cars and stealing stereos from cars parked in P- and F-lots near Chandler Hall the weekend of Oct. 10-12.

Harrisonburg police also charged Rhodes and Hazen with two counts of grand larceny, two counts of petty larceny and three counts of entering a motor vehicle with intent to commit a crime — all of which occurred in different areas of the city in early October.

Rhodes was arrested by campus and city police Nov. 19. Hazen was not arrested until Monday because he had been out of the state until that time.

Campus police are charging the men with stealing a stereo from one car, a set of speakers from another car and breaking into three more cars in an attempt to steal dashboard stereos.

SGA account at $13,000

The Student Government Association has more than $13,000 in its contingency account for use by student organizations, the Finance Committee told the SGA Tuesday.

Bluestone, JMU's yearbook, will be printed by a different company this year so the organization returned an unnecessary $4,582 to the SGA, said Eric Chufar, chairman.

Bluestone is a front-end budgeted organization which receives all monies from the SGA at one time in the spring, he said.

Any university-recognized student organization may apply to the SGA for funds from the contingency account, he said.

A proposal must be introduced into the senate. If approved, it is then sent to the Finance Committee for study.

The Finance Committee then holds a hearing on the proposal, Chufar said. The president and treasurer of the group usually attend the meeting or "anyone else directly involved with the event."

The organization must present its budget to the committee, as well as itemize how the requested funds will be spent, he said.

The committee can decide to pass, amend or reject the proposal, Chufar said.

If it passes in committee, the proposal is brought before the senate to pass, amend or reject, he said.

Only emergency requests for funds will be taken after mid-February, he said. The committee will begin to work on front-end budgets at that time.

— Kyra Scarton

Staff photo by Stephen Jaffe

A construction worker completes the skeleton framework for the roof of the Phillips Center Tuesday.

Sodomy case continued

The sodomy case of Wayne L. Brown, a JMU administrator, was continued until Jan. 4.

The hearing Tuesday in Juvenile Court was closed to the public. A court spokeswoman said, "Nothing happened. The case was continued . . . There are no reasons — it was just the first hearing date, and it was continued."

The case is being heard in closed court because it involves a juvenile, the spokeswoman said.

Brown, 40, assistant director of records, was charged Nov. 6 with sodomizing a 15-year-old boy.

Brown is on paid administrative leave pending decisions in the case.

SGA opposes raising drinking age

By Kyra Scarton
SGA reporter

The Student Government Association voted Tuesday to oppose any legislation brought before the Virginia General Assembly to raise the drinking age in Virginia to 21.

The SGA passed a bill of opinion that opposes the age change.

The bill opposes the change because the general assembly may vote to raise the age so the state can get federal funds for its highways.

A federal law to go into effect Oct. 1, 1986 mandates any state which does not have a drinking age of 21 will lose 5 percent of its federal highway funding for each year after that.

"We're hoping if the general assembly does not pass it this year, then another state will question its (the federal law's) constitutionality," said Beth Kesler, Bell Hall senator, who sponsored the bill.

The bill also opposes raising the drinking age because it would force college students to go off-campus to drink and socialize and could increase drunken driving accidents.

Beth Kesler, Bell Hall senator, sponsored the bill which was brought out of the Legislative Action Committee.

In other action:

• The SGA passed a bill of opinion allowing the Legislative Action Committee to use its discretion in selecting bills supporting stricter laws for those charged with drunken driving to lobby at the general assembly.

The bill was sponsored by Kesler.

"If we're going to oppose raising the drinking age, we've got to support the tougher drinking and driving laws," she said. "That's what we say the answer is."

Nsimbi Buthelezi, Presidential Apartments senator, proposed an amendment to the bill that said the committee must report back to the senate prior to any action on the issue.

Kesler said one judge in Fairfax County has a mandatory sentence of suspending a driver's license for 28 days for a first offense.

Since the committee will be able to decide which of the approximately 35 bills it supports will best work with current legislation, Kesler said the committee can be flexible with what the assembly supports.

• Kesler proposed a bill of opinion that the SGA go on record favoring legislation to ease voter registration in Virginia.

The Legislative Action Committee supports cross-jurisdiction for the state, which allows the registrar of any county or city to go into any other county or city to register its residents.

The state has contiguous registration. This allows registrars to enter surrounding counties or cities to register its residents, she said.

The bill passed unanimously.

• A bill of opinion opposing mandatory draft registration of any male entering a state school passed 22-15 with two abstentions.

The bill states draft registration is a federal law which must be enforced by the federal government.

"I think it's blackmail," said Gary McCoy, White Hall senator. "You are almost denying someone an education because they have a certain moral belief."

In Virginia, only 0.7 percent of the applicable males do not register, Kesler said, who sponsored the bill.

"It's not a school's business to kick people out of school," she said. "You only catch those (males who do register) who further their education."

Buthelezi said, "A law can be a law and still be inadequate."

Kesler said she was surprised the bill passed because she thinks JMU is a conservative school.

• The SGA passed an amendment to its bylaws determining the number of commuter senators by the proportion of on-campus students to on-campus senators.

The bill was brought out of the Internal Affairs Committee by Tina Cason, chairwoman. The committee originally was studying election of commuter senators by districts.

The approved bill will allow equal representation of all students, she said.

The figures could be adjusted easily each year, she said. The average number of on-campus students to on-campus senators this year is 163.

Buthelezi said Presidential Apartments residents were not included in the calculations because "technically we're on-campus students but in practicality we're off-campus students."

To change the bylaw, the bill now must be signed by Dr. Robert Scott, vice president for student affairs.

• Dan Riordan, SGA president, will meet with JMU President Ronald Carrier Tuesday to discuss the construction of bleachers in Madison Stadium.

• Randy See, chairman pro-tempore, proposed $400 be allocated to the Catholic Campus Ministry for its Catch A Ride Safely program. C.A.R.S. gives free, confidential rides to students and faculty who have had too much to drink.

The proposal was sent to the Finance Committee.

coupon LADIES coupon

Mr. Shoe's says, 'Can you read this ad?'

$5.00 OFF

My boots and shoes are already marked 1/2 off. With this coupon, you'll get the best deal of your life. Don't you come into my store and call me Scrooge this year.

Expires Dec. 15

100 pairs of new boots have arrived. No, I'm not Santa Claus, but I feel like it. Have you ever seen a grown man cry? Well I'm going to if you don't take advantage of this sale.

Mr. Shoe's

14 E. Water St. open Friday
434-4466 until 9 p.m.

TONIGHT, NOVEMBER 15

BACKROOM

The Blue Sparks from Hell

Be Here Early For Our
BEAT-THE-CLOCK SPECIALS
Doors Open At 8:00 pm. 51 Court Square 434-4464
Sponsored by Lacrosse Club

Dry Warmth= Polypropylene

1. Unique wicking ability draws perspiration away from body.
2. Moisture passes through polypropylene and is evaporated from outer layer of clothing.
3. You stay dry, warm, more comfortable!

Worn by Olympic sportsmen, international yachtsmen and top mountaineers.
Makes a great Christmas gift. Holiday Hours 10am- 9pm

Wilderness Voyagers

OUTDOOR WEAR AND EQUIPMENT
188 S. Mason St. Harrisonburg 434-7234

policefile

Masked man approaches female student

By Sandy Stone
police reporter

A female JMU student was approached in the Godwin Hall women's locker room by a man wearing a ski mask, campus police reported.

The woman was walking through the locker room to the swimming pool at 8:30 p.m. Nov. 15 when a man approached her and asked her to pull down the top of her bathing suit.

The woman pushed him away and he fled, police said. The man did not touch the woman.

The woman described the man as white, about 5'10", with a heavy build, wearing blue jeans, a dark-colored shirt and a dark-colored ski mask.

No one witnessed the incident, the woman told police.

Police have no suspects, but the case is under investigation.

Campus police also reported the following incidents:

Trespassing charged

A man who had been living in the basement of Shenandoah Hall was charged with trespassing about 8 a.m. Nov. 18.

Terry Sonner, 29, was arrested after dorm residents reported to police that the man had been sleeping in the basement behind a Ping Pong table for several weeks.

Police said Sonner has no home address. "He's just a drifter, wanders from place to place," a police spokesman said.

Blood and feathers

Campus police found a trail of blood and feathers starting at the bridge that crosses Newman Lake and leading to the Alpha Chi Rho fraternity house on Greek Row.

Upon investigation of the trail Nov. 17, police found that a turkey apparently had been slaughtered on the bridge the previous night.

Large spots of blood, feathers and parts of a turkey were found on the patio of the AXP house and inside a trashcan outside of the fraternity house, police said.

More blood was found on the floor of AXP's basement recreation room and turkey feet were found in a trashcan in the fraternity's kitchen.

Police also found parts of a turkey in the kitchen freezer.

The matter has been turned over to the Dean of Students' Office.

Drunken driving charged

Two non-students were arrested and charged with drunken driving.

► David S. Corbett, 20, of Charlottesville was arrested about 1:30 a.m. Nov. 15 near Eagle Hall, police said.

► George A. Obie, 21, of Staunton was arrested about 9:20 p.m. Nov. 16 at Bluestone Drive near Gibbons Dining Hall.

► A passenger in Obie's car, Shaye-mont L. Fitch, 19, of Waynesboro was charged with trespassing about 10:45 p.m. Nov. 16 near Gifford Hall. Police said they had told Fitch at the time of Obie's arrest to leave campus by foot, but they saw him more than one hour later outside of Gifford Hall.

Vandalism

A White Hall candy machine was broken into and $70 worth of items were stolen between 2 a.m. and 10 a.m. Nov. 17, police said.

The display glass was smashed, causing about $100 damage to the machine, police said, and a small amount of blood was found on the machine and on the floor around the machine.

► A vending machine in Garber Hall was broken into and $150 worth of items were stolen between Nov. 16 and Nov. 18, police said.

The display glass was smashed, causing $125 damage.

► Three cars parked behind Garber Hall were vandalized between 5:30 and 7 p.m. Nov. 18, police said.

The rear view mirrors and antennas were stolen from the cars, causing a total of $75 in damages.

Two of the cars belonged to the head residents of Ikenberry and Garber halls; the other car belonged to an Ikenberry resident adviser.

► A license plate and an antenna were bent on a car parked behind Hoffman hall between 6 p.m. Nov. 16 and 10 a.m. Nov. 17, police said.

About $25 damage was done.

In 1533 Holy Atahualpa, 12th Incan Lord, Son of the Sun, received news of a Great White God from across the Endless Sea.
He went to receive his blessing.
At Cajamarca in Peru history's boldest trap was set.

THE ROYAL HUNT OF THE SUN

Calhouns Backroom

Nov. 30, Dec. 1, 2, 7, 8 8 p.m.

Dec. 9 5 p.m.

Call 434-4464 for reservations

$3.50

university hairstylist's
GOOD MORNING SPECIAL
$2.00 OFF

STUDENT HAIRCUTS
Served with free juice and coffee
Every morning 9-11

university hairstylist
433-9533

Behind Luigi's

Expires Dec. 7

Visa Mastercharge

the body shop

Choice
Layaway

Storewide Holiday Sale!

All Remaining
Men's Jeans
and Corduroys

$4.99

Women's Fall / Holiday
Sweaters

25% off
SILK, ANGORAS, HANDKNIT, LEATHER

Jeans

25% off
GASOLINE, ZENA,
ORGANICALLY GROWN
MS. LEE and much more

Get ready for the Holidays at the Body Shop

2 N. Main St.

433-1647

downtown - court square

Getting around Harrisonburg was never so much fun!

How would you like to have a vehicle that carries you, your books, groceries or what have you, that can get more than 90 miles to the gallon, can be parked almost anywhere, and costs you less than a tenth the price of a new car? Honda Scooters do it all! There are six models, in blue, red, white, and tan. Prices start at just $417.00! Come see us- and ride one soon!

Suburban Motors

680 Waterman Drive
434-7345

HONDA Closed Mondays
FOLLOW THE LEADER

Scott Cullen
Christine Primoli

SOUTHARD SOUNDS

WEEKEND SPECIAL

All $8.99 List LP's Now $5.95
 TDK-SA 90 min. 2 pack $4.99

We buy and sell consignment stereo equipment for Christmas

82 South Main St

Harrisonburg

434-1770

AN ROTC SCHOLARSHIP WILL TAKE CARE OF TUITION WHILE YOU TAKE CARE OF BUSINESS

Coming up with good grades is a job in itself. It's even harder if you have to worry about coming up with tuition too. Army ROTC can lighten that load. We've got scholarships that pay tuition, required fees and an amount for books and supplies. Plus, pay up to $1000 each year they're in effect.

What if you don't receive one? ROTC can still help - with financial assistance - up to $1000 a year - for your last two years in the program.

So check out a way to keep your mind on the books, not on the bucks. Find out more by contacting your Army ROTC Professor of Military Science.

ROTC is now taking applications for two and three year scholarships

Contact:

Capt. Torres 568-6355

Stad. Bldg., Rm F205

MW 14:00-14:50

TTh 10:50-11:40

ARMY ROTC.
BE ALL YOU CAN BE.

Busy builders

Roofers continue in their efforts to turn a frame into the new student union, but the weather has decided to hamper the construction.

Staff photo by Steve Eaton

Angelo's

YOU BAKE & SAVE

PIZZA

& SUBS

Open 11:00 a.m. - 8:00 p.m. Monday-Saturday
Closed Sunday

433-2137

1828 South Main St.
Harrisonburg, VA

In a hurry? Call ahead and we will have your pizza waiting

Let Angelo's prepare you a fresh delicious pizza to take home. In just 16-18 minutes you can bake a pizza that you will love. Or choose from our variety of subs. At Angelo's you bake and save.

WE USE 100% REAL CHEESE

CREATE YOUR FAVORITE

	Sm (9")	Med (12")	Lg (16")
PLAIN CHEESE	2.05	3.25	4.85
with one topping	2.55	4.00	5.95
two toppings	3.10	4.70	6.95
three toppings	3.65	5.40	7.95
four toppings	4.20	6.00	8.95
EXTRA TOPPINGS	.55	.60	.65

Free gift with 16" pizza!

LUNCH BOX SPECIAL from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m.
(after 3 p.m. 25¢ extra). Your choice hot or cold sub served with potato chips and 12 oz. drink.

	Special	Sub only
Roast Beef.....	2.40	2.05
Western Ham.....	2.40	2.05
Vegetarian.....	2.10	1.75
Hoagie.....	2.30	1.95
Pizza Sub.....	2.40	2.05

$1.50 OFF

Large Pizza with 3 or more toppings

Exp. 12-15-84

$1.00 OFF

Med. Pizza with
3 or more toppings

Exp. 12-15-84

75¢ OFF

Small Pizza with 3 or more toppings

Exp. 12-15-84

Every Weekend is Parents' Weekend

Fri-Sat-Sun

Sheraton offers luxury rooms, sauna, and an indoor pool. You'll find simple to elegant dining in our Olympic Room and nightly entertainment in our popular Scruples. Ask about our Special Sunday Night Rates.

Sheraton
Harrisonburg Inn

$15 off any regular room rate

Limit - One coupon per Room (double occupancy $15.00 off - single occupancy $10.00 off). Not valid with any other form of discount. Coupon expires April 30, 1984. Good weekends only (Fri-Sat-Sun) and based upon availability. Reservations required. Rooms must be guaranteed by one night's deposit or major credit card number. Not available in groups.

Must be presented upon check in

Sheraton
Harrisonburg Inn

1400 East Market St. - Phone (703) 433-2521

classifieds

For Sale

Rocky's Antique Mall Super stuff; reasonable prices. Largest antique mall in the Shenandoah Valley. 15 minutes south of JMU on Rt. 11. Visa, Master Card. Thursday - Sunday. 9 - 5.

Is it true you can buy jeeps for $44 through the US government? Get the facts today! Call 1-312-742-1142. Ext. 5080.

Male Housing Contract Spring Semester. Contact Randy x4346 or x5262.

Male Housing Contract for Sale! Spring Semester. Call Ming x4588.

VW Wagon 1972, air, good condition, $500, 289-5306 after 5 p.m.

Urgent! Female Housing Contract available. Call Julie x5639.

Harrison Antiques wishes everyone a happy holiday, be sure to stop by before you leave. We have unusual gifts starting with sterling jewelry from $4 each, gold chains from $12 up. Layaway available on more expensive such as furniture, clocks, diamonds, sterling flatware. Mastercard, Visa. We will trade for anything of value. So you artists show your stuff.

Sofa for sale. $75. Will deliver. Call 433-2721.

Harmony 12-string electric guitar Excellent condition. Cindy. 433-0389.

Female Housing Contract for sale. Call Blair. x4028 by Friday.

Male Housing Contract for sale. Spring Semester. Call Eddy. x4110.

Help Wanted

Spanky's Deli Help Wanted Apply in person before 11 a.m. or after 2 p.m.

JM's Deli Personnel Apply in Deli. 2 - 5 p.m. daily.

JM's Delivery Personnel Apply in Deli. 2 - 5 p.m. daily.

Personals

JM's Daily Delivery 11 a.m. - 1:30 a.m. weekdays, 'till 2 a.m. weekdays.

Christmas Party with Third Wave and all the beer you can drink on Dec. 6 for $3. Tickets on sale in Harrison Breezeway starting Nov. 26.

People Write Me "I want to get well" Free monthly bulletin. 5 information charts. $1. John Ray Hinkle, Dayton, VA 22821-0188.

Shuffle and US Male at the Mystic Den. Saturday, Dec. 1.

Tim Thanks for making my last formal my best formal. Too bad we didn't get snowed in! Marianne.

$25 Reward for return of red-oranger Peugeot 10-speed. No questions asked! Call Rebecca. x5859.

Crescent Happy Birthday! I love you. BW.

Bruce Springsteen and the E Street Band Thank all our friends - both old and new - for supporting us at the last Lip Sync. Santa will be coming back tomorrow night!! - Brian, Jerry, Willie, Andy. -PS We still can't dance, but that's the (uh)... "breaks".

Jimmy O at the Mystic Den Thursday, Nov. 29.

Dick Hope your birthday was the best! Thanks for a great weekend. I miss you! Love, Denise.

Rock Bop-Be Bop It's Jimmy O at the Mystic Den Thursday Nov. 28.

Frank Callers We know who you are; Pineapples.

Party with School of Business Student Organizations and Third Wave at Godwin on Dec. 6. Tickets are only $3.

Bloom County

Sue Look, a personal! Well 3 1/2 years have sure flown by, but we've made a heckuva lot of memories at ol' JMU - JM's, Bball games, White Hall, HoJo's, frat parties, NCAA, NYC and lots of gossip (I swear I won't tell) Thanks for being my bestest friend, I'll miss ya lots! Love, Dawn.

Hey JBN You made my Day something special this year. Now I hope I can do the same. I hope you have a wonderful 22nd birthday!!! Love always, Colleen.

Jenna The best pledge educator in the world. Thanx for your love and understanding. Love, the Sigma Kappa pledge class.

Hey Freshman who likes cheeseburgers with ketchup and pickles (no "nasty" mustard), where are you? I haven't seen you on campus. Laura the sophomore.

Vicki You're such a great roommate. Thanks for everything! Hop.

Cheerleaders I'm so proud to be a part of you! "This one's for you". I love you all! Little Spaz.

Hard Rock and Pop Rock at the Mystic Den with the Shuffle and US Male Saturday night.

PI Kapp You made a Big Mistake!!! - 3rd floor girls!

Robert We love you! The McGraw-Long Girls.

Kim, Tracy, and Cheryl "Eat" any good carrots lately? Susan.

Pumpkin doodles Thursday nights, 68 or 69, whoker burn, "IWTMUC", no PE, miss me? Why do I take your crap? I feel for you, the Comma Queen.

Happy Birthday, John! Hope it's great?!?! Love, Nancy.

Next Week It's M-1 Wednesday, Why Not on Thursday, and the Sparkplugs on Saturday. Last chance to rock this Semester.

Spanky and Spot Next time let me get dressed before we go out! (However, it was adventurous) Hug, Porkie.

Wingdings Thanks for an unforgettable birthday. Ya'll are special. Porkie.

To All ASA's I want to tell you all thanks for: Special Sister, being so psyched for my wedding, and especially for all the friendships and memories that I will always cherish. Come visit me in Colorado! Love, Kelly.

Congratulations Frank Marvin on your Who's Who recognition! SPE.

Max M and Liz B If you want scarlet letters that badly, we'll get you one to wear!

For Rent

Room 526 S High St. Male or Female. Live with 3 other guys. $135 per month plus utilities. Call 434-9711.

Single Bedroom Apartment on Dutchmill Court. $215. monthly. 434-2100.

Room in Townhouse 3 minute walk from campus on Harrison Street. Own bedroom. Male or Female. $120 plus utilities. 434-3983.

Room in Harris Garden $94 includes utilities. Call Steve 433-9351.

2 Rooms for Rent $80 plus utilities. Convenient. Call 434-7476.

2 females wanted to share house. Have own rooms, share kitchen. Only 2 blocks from campus! Now/Spring Semester. $140/month. Call Debbie 433-3899, PO 347.

Want your own big bedroom? Call 433-0203. House is shared with two other girls. $100/month, 1/8 mile from campus.

Roommate needed to share 3 bedroom duplex. 2 blocks from JMU. Now or 2nd semester. $112 plus utilities. 434-0961.

Female Roommate needed ten minute walk from campus on S Main in old Victorian house. $120/month plus 1/8 utilities. Call Stacy 434-5123 or Jennifer 433-0529.

Room for Rent Apartment is fully furnished, big kitchen, nice living room with fireplace, big bedroom. Only 10 minute walk from campus. $125/month plus electric. 501 S High Street. Call 434-1863.

Northern VA sublease Female to share top-floor 2 BR condo in Reston. Rent negotiable, call nights 433-3259.

Private room in Forest Hills Townhouse Walking distance to JMU. Cable, color TV, kitchen facilities, fireplace. $130 a month plus utilities. Call Dave 434-3083.

Two female roommates to share nicely furnished two bedroom townhouse. $125/month. Utilities not included. 434-4142.

Roommate wanted Holly Court. $115 plus 1/3 utilities. 433-0176.

Large 11 x 13 room in well furnished house. Considerate people. $135/month or best offer. 3/4 mile from campus. Has washer/dryer, dishwasher, and woodstove. Call Kelly at 434-0977.

Apartment available on Dutch Mill Court. 2 bedrooms available, each $160 (include water) Call 433-9242.

One room available at Park Crest townhouses. Washer and Dryer. Lease runs till the 1st of June. $121 plus utilities. 433-0228.

announcements

Meetings

The Medical and Allied Health Society —will meet Dec. 5, 8:30 p.m., Burruss 314.

International Business Club —will meet Nov. 29, 5 p.m., Room C, WCC. Elections will be held so interested persons should attend.

N.A.A. —will hold its last meeting of the semester Dec. 6. Social hour is at 8 p.m. and dinner is at 7 p.m. The speaker is Edward Noakes of the SEC. Money must be sent to Dawn Jarrell, Box 5313, by Nov. 30.

I.A.B.C. —Holiday Party will be Nov. 29, 5 p.m. in the lobby of Anthony Seeger Hall. Members are asked to bring an ornament for the tree.

General

Escort Service — AXP offers an escort service Sunday through Thursday, 8 p.m. to 12 midnight. Call x5106 for service.

Tutors Needed —Tutors are needed in nearly all JMU subject areas. If you are interested in tutoring other students, applications are available at the Counseling and Student Development Center, second floor, Alumnae Hall.

Life Science Museum —Hours are Tuesdays and Fridays from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m., room 10, Burruss Hall.

Maxima —If you are interested in participating in Maxima, please contact Anne Boyd, x6217.

C.A.R.S. —A free ride home for faculty and students who have had too much to drink. Friday and Saturday nights from 11 p.m. to 3 a.m., call 433-CARS.

Artworks Gallery —Zirkle House, Mon. through Fri., noon to 5 p.m. Fri. and Sat., noon to 4 p.m.

Commuter Ride Board —A commuter ride board is available in the Commuter Student Office, Room 106, WCC, for those who travel daily from Front Royal, Winchester, and Charlottesville to JMU.

Phone Books —Student phone books for Commuter Students are available in the Commuter Student Office, WCC.

Tutoring Services —Sigma Phi Lambda, the honor society for all majors, is offering tutoring services. Interested students can write box 5398, or call Donna, 433-8478.

The Other Gallery —Zirkle House, hours are: Mon. through Thurs., noon to 5 p.m., Fri. and Sat., noon to 4 p.m.

Summer Schedules —Tentative Summer School schedules are available in the Summer School Office, 107, Wilson Hall.

Events

Faculty Recital —Sandra Cryder, mezzo-soprano, John Cryder, horn, and Douglas Kehlenbrink, bassoon. Dec. 5, 8 p.m., Wilson Hall Auditorium. Admission is free and open to the public.

Concert —The James Madison University Women's Concert Choir and Chorus will present their annual Christmas Vespers Concert Dec. 2, 3 p.m., Wilson Hall Auditorium. Admission is free and open to the public.

Auditions —Auditions for Jesus Christ Superstar will be held on Jan. 14 and Jan. 15 in Latimer Shaeffer Theatre. Sign up sheets for audition times are posted on the door of the Latimer Shaeffer Theatre. If you have any questions, contact Roger Hall, x6559.

Found

Woman's Ring in Jackson Hall bathroom. Call Diane x5351.

Quilted Nylon Ski Vest. Found in Keezle 306. Call English Dept. Head at x6202.

Lost

Lost 11/14 Amber art portfolio. Call Martha x7322. Important.

William and Mary Sweathirt in Miller. Reward. Call Vicky. x4265.

A gold ring black onyx with a gold AST insignia - not monetarily valuable but very valuable to me. Lost somewhere around Godwin or near football field. If found, please call Mandy x4444.

A set of keys (5) with ID case at JM's on 10/31 Reward! Call x5758.

Wanted

Experienced band in need of male vocalist. Immediate response necessary. Call Paul x5943.

Services

Professional Resume/Typing Service via Computer. Call Barbara 434-0946.

Typing Service 21 years of experience. $1/page. Mrs. Price. 879-9935.

Confidential Abortion Services ... because we believe a woman faced with an unintended pregnancy should have a full range of options available to her. Hagerstown Reproductive Health Services - member of the National Abortion Federation (NAF). All counseling and medical services meet or exceed NAF guidelines. Call collect for information or to schedule an appointment: (301) 733-2400.

Professional Typing IBM Selectric. Inquire 433-8685 before 7 p.m.

Professional Typing Call Kathy 433-8015.

Professional Typing Pica or Elite. Call Donna Bodkin, 879-9294.

Professional Typing Susan, x6292 9 a.m.-12:30 p.m. or 434-7508.

Professional Typing 85 cents a page! Call Julie evenings 434-4588.

Pregnant? Free confidential help. Free pregnancy test. Birthright. 434-0003.

Typing/Word Processing Thesis, reports, papers, resumes. Data storage and editing capabilities. Fast, accurate service at reasonable rates. Pick-up and delivery available. Call Joan at 879-9949.

Professional Typing Call Jay. x4019.

ADVERTISING ITEM POLICY
Each of these advertised items is intended to be made available for sale in each Kroger Store except as specifically noted in this ad. If an item is out of an advertised item, we will offer you your choice of a comparable item, when available, reflecting the same savings or a replacement which will enable you to purchase the advertised item at the advertised price within 30 days. Only one vendor coupon will be accepted per item purchased.

COPYRIGHT 1984 THE KROGER CO. ITEMS AND PRICES GOOD SUNDAY, NOV. 25, THROUGH SATURDAY, DEC. 1, 1984, IN HARRISONBURG. WE RESERVE THE RIGHT TO LIMIT QUANTITIES. NONE SOLD TO DEALERS.

Come To The

Grand Opening

Feel the Difference...

With Your Newly Remodeled Harrisonburg Kroger

Featuring:

- Floral Shop
- Wine Department
- Card & Party Shop
- Seafood Shop
- Deli-Bakery

Floral Shop

FRESH CUT
Mixed Bouquet of Flowers
Each

$2.99

FOIL WRAPPED
Holiday
Poinsettias
6-inch Pot

$5.95

Seafood Shop

Shrimp
In The Shell

$4.99

36-40 CT. PER LB. LESS THAN 1/2" EACH

Salad Size
Cooked Shrimp

$4.99

1 lb. Bag
200-300 COOKED BABY SHRIMP PER BAG

Golden Ripe Bananas

Pound

5 $1

For

U.S. GOV'T INSPECTED
THE MORE BEEF GROUND BEEF

Extra Lean Ground Beef

Pound
99¢

LIMIT 4 PLEASE

Wiedemann Beer

6-12-oz. Cans

99¢

LIMIT 4 PLEASE

KROGER COST CUTTER COUPON

PRINT RETURNABLE BOTTLES
TAB SPRITE

Diet Coke or Coca Cola
89¢

LIMIT 24-PACKS WITH $10.00 ADDITIONAL PURCHASES
LIMIT ONE COUPON PER FAMILY
COUPON VALID ONLY WHEN $10.00 OFF $100.00 SUBJECT TO APPLICABLE STATE & LOCAL LAWS

Deli-Bakery

Fresh Baked
French Bread

16-oz. Loaves
2 $1

SLICED TO ORDER

Sandy Mac Boiled Ham

$2.99

FRESH BAKED

Variety Cookies

2 $1.99

1 Doz.

Cheese Shop

Fresh Made
Cheese Pizza

2 $5

ANY TWO TOPPINGS

Fresh Made Deli Pizza

2 $6

Arts & People

Lozano breaks language barrier

By Alison Colby
assistant features editor

Pushing her partner aside, the compact, husky man grabbed the dancer and shoved her into place. The music started and the pair began to dance.

He overemphasized every move while she watched closely, observing every dip of his shoulder and sway of his body.

All the while, he gave instructions on the steps and style of the dance, punctuating his instruction with body language. A stomp indicated the need for more emphasis and interpretation; a clap indicated the need to pay closer attention to the tempo of the music.

Although his instructions were in English, the man was unsure of the meaning of many words he used.

Guest choreographer Juan Manuel Lozano visited JMU Oct. 8-10 to choreograph a suite of Mexican dances for the JMU Folk Ensemble.

The group will present the suite along with other international dances in its performance tonight and Friday night in the Godwin Dance Studio, Room 355.

Folk Ensemble director and JMU dance instructor Janet Sponheim said Lozano "was a good teacher. He was able to communicate well with the students even though there was a language barrier."

Junior Amy Thomas, a member of the ensemble, said Lozano was "a real good teacher. I liked the procedure he uses. He had a repetitive style.

"The language barrier was interesting, but we overcame it. We had a lot of fun working and sweating together."

Lozano, a choreographer and the director of two Mexican performing groups, lives in Morelia, the capital city of Michoacan, a Mexican state.

While at JMU, he was assisted by his U.S. partner and interpreter Jean Sandos, a resident of Rochester, Ind.

Lozano's visit to JMU was his fourth, but Sandos explained that seven years have passed since his last visit.

"We're building on a repertoire we've taught in the past," Sandos said. "We're teaching the history and styling of a suite of dances from a different region."

The suite Lozano and Sandos taught the group is from the southern Mexican state of Oaxaca. The large state is divided into seven regions. The suite that the ensemble will perform includes dances from three of those regions.

Sandos explained that all six dances in the Mexican suite belong to an eight hour fiesta held at the capital city of Oaxaca. All the regions send dancers to the celebration.

"This fiesta is called 'La Guelaguetza.' The Folk Ensemble will be doing a mini La Guelaguetza," Sandos said.

The first dance to be performed is the "Jarabe Mixteco," a flirtatious dance between couples.

"It has the theme of men pressing women and incorporates a bullfight step," said Sandos. "It is actually a medley of dances."

"La Tortooga," another dance that will be performed by the group, is the oldest dance of the suite.

"The name means 'The Turtle' and is an ancient ritual dance that acts out the mating of the sea turtle," Sandos said.

"The turtle is the source of livelihood for the Mexican people. This dance is very important to them."

Other dances that will be performed are the "Jarabe del Valle," a dance from the Isthmus of Tehuantepec; "La Llorona," a dance from the coastal region of Mexico; "La Zandunga," where the women offer gifts to the audience; and the "Jarabe Tapatio," which Sponheim will participate in.

Folk Ensemble member freshman Karen Comerford said she enjoys dancing in the Mexican suite and enjoyed working with Lozano.

"He was really funny and he really made us work," she said.

The program tonight and Friday night includes other international dances.

The group will perform four Romanian dances, two Scottish dances, a Hula, a Tahitian dance, three Hungarian dances, a tap dances and a cloggin scenario.

Tonight's performance will be at 8 p.m. Friday night's performances will be at 6 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Tickets are $1 for students and children and $2 for the general public and may be purchased at the studio.

Stephanie Alquist, Karen Comerford and El "Zandunga" dance of the Mexican suite.

Juan Manuel Lozano

Staff photo by Gr

'The language barrier was interesting, but we overcame it. We had a lot of fun working and sweating together.'

— Amy Thomas

Staff photo by Greg Fletcher

Elaine Butler strut their gala costumes and fancy footwork in the "La te.

Greg Fletcher

Janet Sponheim

Staff photo by Steve Eaton

The JMU Folk Ensemble's program tonight and Friday night will be as follows:

Romanian dances —	Dolul Briul Pe Opt Dansul Fetelor de la Crihalma Batuta Munteneasca
Scottish dances —	West's Hornpipe 1314
Dances from the South Seas —	Hula — Little Brown Gal Tahitian — Pahae
Hungarian dances —	Haromugros Kapurari Verbunk Tuberosa Csardas
Mexican dances —	Jarabe Mixteco Jarabe del Valle La Llorona La Tortooga La Zandunga Jarabe Tapatio
American dances —	Tap Big Circle/Clogging Scenario

Instructor adds diversity to dance department

By Allison Colby
assistant features editor

Bringing her down-to-earth style of dance to JMU, Janet Sponheim has added another dimension to JMU's dance department.

"She teaches dance that is not as flashy" as that taught in previous years said senior Lisa Counts, a member of the JMU Folk Ensemble. "What we (the Folk Ensemble) are doing this year is more down to earth."

Sponheim, a San Francisco Bay area native, came to Harrisonburg this fall to replace Edwin Howard as director of the JMU Folk Ensemble and to teach dance classes.

"I came here because the program sounded interesting," Sponheim said. "There seemed to be a good balance of folk and contemporary dance. It sounded like a nice place, too."

Sponheim, a graduate of Humboldt State University in northern California, teaches classes in international folk dance, modern dance and dance techniques. She graduated from the university with a French major, but said she was interested in dance while there.

Since her interest developed, Sponheim has studied many forms of folk dance.

"I studied in Scotland in 1979 . . . and in Poland the year before, in 1978," she said. "I have also studied at different workshops and institutes with foreign instructors."

The Folk Ensemble's first concert tonight and Friday night demonstrates Sponheim's range of knowledge in folk dance. The group's program includes dances from Romania, Hungary, Scotland, the South Seas and Mexico.

Sponheim said she enjoys what she is doing here. "The students are enthusiastic and really willing to work."

Her students agree that Sponheim works them hard as well as working hard herself.

Junior Amy Thomas, a Folk Ensemble member, said, "It's obvious she loves what she's doing. That makes a difference. She's efficient — she really knows a lot about folk dancing."

Last year, the folk ensemble had about 30 members. This year, the number has decreased to 16.

Of the Folk Ensemble, Counts said, "It's like beginning a football team. We're doing our best."

According to Counts, Sponheim is doing her best, too. Her different style has added a new dimension to the JMU dance department.

Thursday

Music

- Cruises (top-40) — Gandy Dancer, cover charge not available.
- Blue Sparks From Hell (R & B) — Calhouns, $3 cover.
- d.j. — Cars, no cover charge.
- Ladies night (d.j.) — Belle Meade, $2 cover, ladies $1.
- Jimmy-O (rock) — Mystic Den, cover charge not available.

Movies

- An American Werewolf in London — Grafton-Stovall Theatre, 7 and 9:30 p.m., $1.50 with ID, $2 without ID.
- Supergirl (PG) — Roth Theatres, 7:15 and 9:15 p.m. shows $4.
- The Terminator (R) — Roth Theatres, 7:30 and 9:25 p.m. shows $4.
- A Soldier's Story (PG) — Roth Theatres, 7:30 and 9:20 p.m. shows $4.
- Country (PG) — Virginia Theater, 7 and 9 p.m. shows $4.

Friday

Music

- d.j. — Calhoun's, no cover charge.
- Skyline (rock) — Scruples, $3 cover charge.
- Country Bach (country) — Gandy Dancer, cover charge not available.
- Empire (rock) — Scotland Yard, cover charge not available.
- d.j. — Cars, no cover charge.
- Contraband (Top-40) — Belle Meade, $2 cover.
- Decmas Dean (country) — Mystic Den, $3 cover.

Movies

- Star Trek III (PG) — Grafton-Stovall Theatre, 7 and 9:30 p.m., $1.50 with ID, $2 without.
- Last Tango in Paris (X) — Grafton-Stovall Theatre, midnight, $1.50 with ID, $2 without.
- Supergirl (PG) — Roth Theatres, 7:15 and 9:15 p.m. shows $4.
- The Terminator (R) — Roth Theatres, 7:30 and 9:25 p.m. shows $4.
- Buccaroo Banzai (PG) — Roth Theatres, 7 and 9:05 p.m. shows $4.
- The Little Drummer Girl (R) — Virginia Theater, 7 and 9:20 p.m. shows $4.

Saturday

Music

- Mike Mulvaney (R & B) — Calhoun's, $1 cover.
- Skyline (rock) — Scruples, $3 cover charge.
- Country Bach (country) — Gandy Dancer, cover charge not available.
- Empire (rock) — Scotland Yard, cover charge not available.
- d.j. — Cars, no cover charge.
- Contraband — Belle Meade, $2 cover.
- The Shuffle and U.S. Male (rock) — Mystic Den, $3 cover.

Movies

- Star Trek III (PG) — Grafton-Stovall Theater, 7 and 9:30 p.m., $1.50 with ID, $2 without.
- Supergirl (PG) — Roth Theatres, 7:15 and 9:15 p.m. shows $4.
- The Terminator (R) — Roth Theatres, 7:30 and 9:25 p.m. shows $4.

- Buccaroo Banzai (PG) — Roth Theatres, 7 and 9:05 p.m. shows $4.
- The Little Drummer Girl (R) — Virginia Theater, 7 and 9 p.m. shows $4.

Etc.

Golf

- Lakeview Golf Course — $1 for students with IDs to play West nine holes. Regular prices are $7 weekdays, $4.50 after 5 p.m. and $9.50 for weekends and holidays.

Bowling

- Valley Lanes — $.90 days and $1.25 for tenpins and $1.15 for duckpins nights. Open 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. every day.

Horseback Riding

- Oak Manor Farms — US 11 South.

Roller Skating

- Skatetown USA — Open Tuesday 10 a.m. to noon and Tuesday through Friday 7:30 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Artworks

- Artworks Gallery — Georgia Valverde and Kevin Jones (mixed media), Through Dec. 8.
- New Image Gallery — Brian Scott Ward, (photography), Through Dec. 1.
- The Other Gallery — Patti Cannon (multi-media), Through Dec. 8.
- Sawhill Gallery — "Tri-State Sculptors: Small Works and Drawings" Nov. 30 - Dec. 13.

MIDWAY MARKET

157 Warsaw Ave.

434-7948

BEER

BUDWEISER (Reg. / Light) 12 pk cans	$4.99
COORS (Reg./light) 12 pk cans	$4.99
LITE /MILLER (Reg./Light) 12 pk cans	$4.99
MILWAUKEE'S BEST 6 pk cans	$1.59
BUSCH (6 pk$2.29) 12 pk	$4.59
MOLSON'S - ale, beer, golden	$3.09
OLD MILL (6 pk$2.29) 12 pk	$4.59
GOEBELS (6 pk$1.69) 12 pk	$2.99
SCHAEFFER (6 pk$1.69) 12 pk	$2.99
MICHELOB (Reg./light) Bottles	$2.88
GOLDEN HAWK Malt Liquor (cans)	$1.19
FALSTAFF 6 pk cans	$1.39
LOWENBRAU (Reg./Dark) Bottles	$2.88

RETURNABLES

COORS / (Reg/Light) (plus deposit)	$9.89
BUSCH (plus deposit)	$8.99
NATIONAL BOHEMIAN (plus deposit)	$5.99

KEGS

OLD MILL	$17.99 (¼), ½ $27.99
BUD	$23.99 (¼), ½ $37.99
COORS	$22.99 (¼) ½ $34.99
BUSCH	Not Available (¼), ½ $28.99
STROHS OR BULL	½ $27.99
SCHAFFER	½ $24.99

OTHER

FRITO LAY CHIPS (7 oz.) Buy 1- Get 1 FREE
SPRITE (Reg. or Diet) 2 liter	$1.09
CANADA DRY MIXERS (28 oz.)	$0.69

Open Nightly Till Midnight

UNDERCLASSMEN

who like to attend

PARTIES

this year at local colleges and would like to be a

PHOTOGRAPHER

good 35mm camera
and strobe needed

Some Expierence Needed
Must Be Reliable

GOOD SALARY

make money in fun setting

CALL NOW

Barry Cox - 434-1983

ACTION PHOTOS (804-320-0580)

Ask for Randy

Or Write: 2733 Jimmy Winters Rd.
Richmond, Va. 23235

Sports

The search is on at JMU

By Scott Tolley
sports editor

In a situation where the program had outgrown the man, the administration released Challace McMillin as head football coach at JMU.

The formal announcement was made Monday, Nov. 19, so now the Dukes are without a head football coach. The big question as of late has been who will replace McMillin.

"We have made some contacts, but we have not set up any appointments," Ehlers said.

He went on to say they have advertised the position and they now have a stack of applicants to go through.

JMU wants a winner, obvious in their unwillingness to wait for the coach to catch up with the program. And because JMU wants a winner, the administration has not limited itself on how high it sets its sights.

"I think we would cover the board," Ehlers said. "We would prefer someone with coaching experience . . . head coaching experience. But we would not eliminate assistants in Div. I-AA programs. We have some candidates from some high-powered programs."

Ehlers added that the person selected can not just name his price.

"The person selected will have to work in the perimeters of the athletic budget," he said. "It's not a situation where we can go out and seek the person we want and say, 'What will it take to get you here?'"

Who are they going after? Here are a few names that have been floating around, going from the biggest to the littlest:

Roger French . . .

This may be a long shot, but JMU is looking big. French is the offensive coordinator for the top-ranked team in the nation, Brigham Young. French, who has been with the program for five years, is in charge of the offensive line, which has protected an offense that leads the nation in total offense. Before last weekend's win over Utah State to end its season at 12-0, BYU averaged 483 yards a game in total offense and was ranked number one in passing, averaging 346 yards a game.

French, out of town recruiting for the week, was unavailable for comment, but head coach LaVell Edwards said he is not totally sure if French has been looking at the JMU job. He added, "I know he's interested in becoming a head coach and he would be a good one."

Art Baker . . .

Baker is in his first year as an offensive coordinator for Florida State University, where he is in charge of quarterbacks.

Baker was head coach for five years at The Citadel and at Furman. He was offensive coordinator for East Carolina for one year before moving on to Florida State, which is 12th-ranked and will play in the Citrus Bowl against Georgia.

Baker said he was unaware of the vacancy at JMU until this week, adding that it would be hard to say anything as he is directing all his attentions to Saturday's game with arch-rival Florida.

Administration has begun to look for new head coach

"I think James Madison is a super school. The program is growing in leaps and bounds," he said. "It would be a good opportunity for anyone to go into. There seems to be a great deal of support there which is a big incentive."

Danny Wilmer . . .

Wilmer, who was an assistant for four years at JMU, is in his first year as an assistant at the University of Virginia. Wilmer is in charge of the offensive line of the Peach Bowl-bound Cavaliers.

Wilmer said Nov. 3 following UVa's win over West Virginia that it was only rumor that he was up for the head coaching job, adding he was happy at UVa. Anonymous sources say Wilmer is a top candidate for the job at JMU.

Tom Fletcher . . .

Fletcher is the assistant athletic director and an assistant coach at Virginia Tech. Fletcher, in his seventh year with the Hokies, is in charge of the offensive ends. He is also considered one of the top recruiters in the nation. Virginia Tech finished the season at 8-3 and will meet Air Force in the Independence Bowl.

"I feel they (JMU administration) are aware of my interest in the vacancy . . . I'm very interested in the position," he said. "It's a great school. Being a native Virginian and having the opportunity to coach at Virginia, North Carolina and Virginia Tech I'm very familiar with the growth progress at James Madison. I think it's a great opportunity for someone."

Joe Purzycki . . .

Purzycki, one of the first names to surface, is head coach at Delaware State. Purzycki is in his fourth year with the Hornets, whose offense averaged 42.5 points a game. Although the Dukes slipped by Delaware State 20-19 this season, the Hornets finished with an 8-2 record and went on to post-season play.

Purzycki, who has supposedly come in contact with JMU officials, could not be reached, but in a Richmond Times-Dispatch article he was quoted as saying, "There's some interest there, but anything else would be premature. There's nothing you can make of it now."

Phil Albert . . .

Albert is the head coach at Towson State where he led the Tigers to an 8-3 regular-season record and post-season play in the Div. II championships. If Towson should win this week they will play for the national championship next weekend.

Of all the coaches contacted, Albert showed the greatest interest in the job.

"I am interested in the position," he said. "I'm going to do what I can to learn more about it. I'm sure there are a lot of names."

He went on to say it's difficult to make a full-force attempt to get the job because of the Tigers' involvement in the national championships. "Timing-wise this is very difficult right now to do both. As far as my interest — it's there."

Hank Norton . . .

Norton is head coach at Ferrum Junior College, where he has led the Panthers to numerous junior college national championships.

Norton was unable to be reached, but he was quoted in the Times-Dispatch as saying, "It's an excellent job. Anybody would be interested."

Staff photo by Stephen Jaffe

Challace McMillin kneels on the sidelines in Nov. 10 game against VMI. That game marked the last home game for McMillin as JMU's head football coach.

Dukes run away with opener

Staff photo by John Kessler

Sophomore point guard Flo Jackson scores in JMU's season-opening win over Randolph-Macon as Holly Cope (11) watches helplessly. Jackson led the Dukes with 11 assists.

By Sonny Dearth
staff writer

The JMU women's basketball team literally got their season off to a running start Tuesday night at the Convocation Center.

With sophomore Flo Jackson at the controls of a powerful fast break attack, the Dukes routed Randolph-Macon College 101-65. JMU's effective transition game which led to its domination over the Yellow Jackets was nothing head coach Shelia Moorman didn't expect.

"After six weeks of practice, our players were ready to expend their pent-up energies on another team. We were ready to go out and run," Moorman said.

And run they did. After a slightly nervous opening 10 minutes, the Dukes held a 28-22 advantage.

Senior Michele James' three-point play started a string of nine unanswered points over 2:15 that boosted the JMU margin to 39-24 with 7:09 left in the half.

The Dukes increased their edge in the final few minutes of the first half, taking a 57-32 lead into the locker room. A large part of JMU's first-half success was the fact they shot 63.4 percent from the field. For the game, the Dukes shot 56.4 from the floor.

"We were playing nine people regularly in the first half, while they (R-MC) had to go with the same five. Therefore, we were much less tired at the end of the half," Moorman said.

The second half was a mere formality to the final result, as the Dukes gradually padded their final margin.

The outside shooting of Yellow Jacket guard Holly Cope and forward Sharon Miller kept the final score from being even more lopsided. Cope finished with 18 points, while Miller totaled 14.

The Dukes reached a milestone during the final minute of the game when freshman walk-on Julie Hopkins sank a 20-footer. The basket took the Dukes over the century mark for the first time in at least two years.

"It was a game where we hoped to get many players' feet wet, so to speak," Moorman said. Eleven Dukes got into the game, and 10 of them scored.

Part of JMU's success can be attributed to their balanced scoring. Julie Franken, a power forward whom Moorman cited as playing "one of her best games ever," led the Dukes with 19 points, connecting on eight-of-13 field goal attempts.

Betsy Witman, the small forward, collected 18. James, who came off the bench to score 11 points in the first half, finished the game with 15. Guard and senior captain Sue Manelski contributed 13.

The catalyst of the Duke attack, Jackson, scored only 12 points, but her real contribution was her 11 assists. The co-captain averaged 2.6 assists per game last year as a freshman. "Flo has a much better all-around game this year," Moorman said.

Six-foot center Alisa Harris, the only freshman starter on the squad, scored eight points and collected eight rebounds. James, a starter last year, now comes off the bench to give the Dukes scoring at forward.

"What a luxury to have a player like Michele coming off the bench," Moorman said. "She's a good scorer and maybe the best rebounder in the history of the program."

JMU's next game is expected to be tougher than the one against Randolph-Macon. The Dukes take on the University of Charleston (West Virginia) at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Convocation Center.

"They've got a tremendous tradition and they always have a good record," Moorman said. "Even though they lost a lot of seniors last year, they'll come after us with an up-tempo, pressing defense. I think we'll be ready, but we've got to take them (each game) one at a time."

1-0 Dukes host Furman

By Kerry Coffelt
assistant sports editor

The 1984-85 edition of the JMU men's basketball team passed its first test Sunday night at home against Virginia Military Institute — but just barely.

The Dukes and the Keydets traded leads 14 times and were tied on 15 other occasions before JMU won 67-63 in overtime in the season-opener for both schools.

"They're gutty," Dukes' head coach Lou Campanelli said of his squad. "They didn't play well at times, but they showed character."

"VMI was a difficult opener for us. They are a veteran team. We're very pleased with our opener."

The win avenges a 62-60 overtime loss to the Keydets last season, one of six overtime games for JMU in the '83-'83 season.

Sophomore forward John Newman led JMU with career highs of 21 points and 10 rebounds.

"John Newman probably had as fine an individual performance as I've seen in two years," Campanelli said. "Newman was outstanding. He kept us alive when we were struggling."

Freshman point guard Robert Griffin added 16 points for the Dukes, while Eric "Boo" Brent chipped in 11.

JMU trailed 28-27 at halftime but took the lead in the see-saw affair at 58-56 with 1:22 left in the game when forward Darrell Jackson hit two free throws.

The Keydets tied the game at 58 on two free throws by Gay Elmore, who led VMI with 18 points. Elmore's chances of being the hero vanished when he missed two shots in the closing seconds that would have given the Keydets the victory.

In the overtime period the Dukes took the lead for good at 65-63 when Griffin hit a pair of free throws with 1:27 left in the game. Griffin iced the game with one second left when he hit two more foul shots.

"I thought we played a heck of a second half against a fine VMI team," Campanelli said. "In the first half we were a little nervous, a little tight early, and it showed."

Staff photo

With JMU's victory over VMI, Dukes' head coach Lou Campanelli has a career record of 225-104.

See FURMAN page 15 ▶

Rags to riches

Under second-year coach Deb Tyson, JMU heads to NCAA's

By Harry Atwood
staff writer

In her second season as JMU volleyball coach, Deb Tyson upped last year's 20-30 record to 37-8 and gained a birth in the National Collegiate Athletic Association's (NCAA) Division II Volleyball Championships.

The bid to the NCAA tournament is the first for the volleyball team and the first for any women's team in the school's history.

How could a team that had to recruit swimmers to make up its team last year make such an impressive turnaround?

Team member Georgia Deren gives much of the credit to the coaching staff. "They're the best coaches I've ever had," she said. "She (Tyson) doesn't make us do things we can't do."

Tyson gives credit to her players. "They're good athletes as well as good volleyball players. They've worked to combine many different personalities."

Another reason for the team's success has been Tyson's recruiting efforts. Tyson has gone as far as Arizona to bring quality players to the program.

Whatever the reasons, the Dukes have found the formula for winning.

Their chemistry of success will have to continue as JMU faces the number one team in the nation, Portland State, in the first round of the championships 4:30 p.m. Friday in New Haven, Conn. Unlike the Dukes, they aren't newcomers to the NCAA's. They finished runners-up last year and finished third in 1982.

"They're a big team, which means they can block well, but we're not expecting any fabulous or outstanding things from them," Tyson said. "The ball is the same size, the net is the same height, and the court dimensions will be the same . . . They put on their uniforms the same way we do."

Captain Sandy Heinbach believes being the underdog will to JMU's advantage. "They're looking past us. They're probably saying 'Where is JMU and what is it,'" Heinbach said.

Deren agreed. "They're thinking we're nothing but a team from Virginia."

Tyson stressed the advantages of being the underdog. "There are more advantages than disadvantages," she said. "Our season is not over and we have a good shot at being number one."

There is an undeniable confidence among the team. Freshman Michelle Mazza said, "We have a pretty good chance of an upset."

Sheila Chittams added, "I feel we're going to give them the best we can. They're not going to walk over us."

Tyson hopes pre-tournament expectations won't hurt the team's self-confidence.

"We need to be careful in not putting our opponents on a pedestal," she said. "We've met our goals but we need to realize these teams are beatable."

Heinbach believes the team must avoid tensing up. "We don't have too much to lose and every thing to gain."

In preparing for the championships, Tyson said the team will continue to concentrate on the basics and not defer from their regular practice routine.

Deren said of Tyson's approach to the NCAA's "She's emphasizing intensity, nothing special, nothing fancy."

Tyson said support, not only from the fans but from the administration, has been a great help. "Coach Babcock (JMU baseball coach) came and spoke to us, and Dr. Carrier dropped us a note," she said. "Those are things they don't have to do. They don't get lost in the shuffle of papers."

Tyson believes there is something special about this team. "I'm very proud of this team. This is a once in a lifetime shot for this group and they deserve this. We're going to go for number one."

Deb Tyson

REC REPORT

ACTIVITIES

BASKETBALL — 3-on-3 competition for men's and women's teams. Sign up by Monday, Dec. 3 on the intramural bulletin board on the second floor of Godwin. Play begins Tuesday, Dec. 4.

ROLLERSKATING — students can skate for free with a JMU ID on Thursday, Dec. 6 from 7:30 to 10 p.m. at Skatetown, USA on South Main Street in Harrisonburg. The skating is open to students, faculty, staff, spouses and families.

POOL HOURS — The pool will be closed for recreational swimming Saturday, Dec. 1 due to a home swim meet.

MEN'S SOCCER

In semi-final action, Pi Kappa Phi, the championship division champion, was defeated by the Pollywogs 1-0. Bastek Blast defeated the Groggs due to a forfeit. In the finals, the Pollywogs became the university champions by defeating Bastek Blast 3-0.

Furman

► (Continued from page 14)

JMU now prepares for its next game Saturday at 7:30 p.m. against Furman in the Convocation Center. The Paladins are 1-1 on the season after beating Erskine College 91-53 and losing to Stetson 60-58.

On Monday, Furman trailed Stetson by as many as 15 points in the first half, but battled back to take a 41-40 lead early in the second half. After several lead changes, the Hatters' Gary Coachman hit a shot with three seconds to play to provide the winning margin.

The Dukes defeated the Paladins in Greenville, S.C. last year 53-45 in the first meeting of the two schools.

"We probably played as fine a road game as we played all year," Campanelli said of last year's game.

Campanelli looks for another close contest this time around, adding that Furman is quicker but not as big as last season.

"It (the margin) is going to be six, seven points or below," Campanelli said. "It's important we execute our offense and get the shots we want."

The Paladins, 12-17 last year, are led by senior Noel Gilliard. The 6-foot-7 forward has averaged 17.5 points and 7.5 rebounds in the first two contests this season.

The JMU attack may be bolstered against Furman by the return of guard George Kingland. The 6-foot-6 sophomore missed all of preseason and the VMI game because of a knee injury which developed tendinitis and kept him out longer than expected.

"We're hoping George Kingland can return," Campanelli said. "He was given the OK by the doctor yesterday (Monday). 'He may see some action Saturday which is a big plus for us.'"

JMU Notes . . .

Campanelli announced Tuesday the signing of Ken Halleck, a 6-foot-2 point guard from Clark, N.J., to a JMU basketball scholarship. Halleck signed during last week's NCAA early-signing period.

Halleck averaged 16.5 points, 7.0 assists and 5.0 rebounds per game last year, while shooting 59.3 percent from the field 89 percent from the free throw line.

"He can pass, he can dribble, he can shoot," Campanelli said of Halleck. "He's like another coach on the floor. He knows the game very well."

"This is a very exceptional young man. We needed another quality guard."

Look for the 1984

JMU Basketball Supplement

in Monday's Breeze

Viewpoint

Streamers banned

Fans attending last Sunday's JMU-VMI basketball game probably noticed something missing from the Convocation Center — streamers.

It appears another much-loved JMU tradition has bitten the dust, but this time we have only our opponents to blame.

Due to a new Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference South rule change, fans no longer can throw any object onto the basketball court during playing time. This could result in a technical foul or forfeiture of the game being assessed against the Dukes.

The eight conference coaches voting in favor of this proposal are betting they can tame student enthusiasm at the "Electric Zoo."

We're betting students will find alternatives to throwing streamers.

Where there's a rule, there's a way around it. Some suggestions....

• Coach Campanelli hopes students will "Come up with something better than the streamers, more intimidating . . ." Campanelli suggests students could throw streamers when the team takes the court or during a time out situation. This would preserve the streamer tradition.

Still, it's unlikely administrators will permit streamers to be distributed at the Convocation Center in any situation. The new rule prohibits this. And "there's always one nut...."

If we're looking for a "more intimidating" alternative, this isn't it.

• Fred Hilton, JMU director of university relations suggested that purple and gold shakers could be passed out to students. He noted that "Noise can be very intimidating" and we agree. However, unless someone comes up with some kind of cheap, disposable noise maker that doesn't whistle, this alternative is unfeasible.

• Bring back the toilet paper? This is one way around the restrictions. Students could, as in the past, supply their own. Toilet paper is more intimidating than streamers. Students could throw toilet paper after the Duke's starting lineup is announced. Both teams and all the Dukes would be on the court near game-time.

We think this suggestion is the best. It's a combination of several ideas that would enhance the spirit, continue the tradition and make it even tougher for opponents to play here.

The tradition of throwing things during playing time could cost the game and should be ended.

But Saturday's game against Furman gives students the chance to break in a new tradition. Opposing coaches will be saddened to hear that toilet paper is back in style at JMU.

The above editorial was written by Pat Plummer, The Breeze's Editorial Editor. It is the opinion of Plummer, Editor Constance Walker, Managing Editor Gwen Fariss, and Assistant Editorial Editor Kristi Muis.

Columnist presents Fall '84 'Dukeys'

Yes, just when you thought it was safe to read The Breeze, it's time once again for the third semi-annual Dukey awards.

In case you've forgotten (or never cared to begin with) the Dukey is a statuette of our proud mascot Duke perched atop a slightly-soiled fire hydrant.

Lost and Found

by

By Tim Arnold

The Dukey is an award given out every semester for lackadaisical, inept, or merely bizarre behavior by members of the JMU community.

In a ceremony shrouded in secrecy (it was held in the men's room of Anthony-Seeger Hall) the awards were presented. The envelopes please . . .

The George Steinbrenner Professional Tact Award goes to Athletic Director Dean Ehlers and JMU President Ronald Carrier for firing head football coach Challace McMillin three days before his last game.

Say hello to big-time college sports, Challace.

Carrier and Ehlers also received a special award for their wisdom in deciding to construct bleachers on the west side of the football stadium. The HUGE crush of people at the games warrant such evasive and logical action.

Speaking of the bleachers, The Frank Burns Memorial Intestinal Fortitude Award goes to SGA Senator Brian Young for his reasoning in not supporting an SGA bill of opinion opposing the bleachers.

Young commented that "After Carrier spoke last week, it would be difficult for us (the SGA) to turn around and go against him."

Talk about effective government . . .

The Big Bad Wolf, Forced Entry Award goes to that ingenious Moonie who tried to enter a suite in Dingleline by claiming he was a plumber.

Those tiny, stuffed raccoons they were hawking were kinda cute, though.

The Wham-Bam-Thank-You-

Ma'am School of Psychological Quackery Award goes to hypnotist-nightclub entertainer James Mapes, who reacted to criticism of his "act" by saying, "I wake people up to possibilities of the mind. They question, look and get in touch with their own fears. It's healthy, but it's frightening."

Of course, Mapes wasn't around to counsel the students who complained of anxiety and stress after his sleazy lounge act. He merely collected his loot and left.

And last but certainly least, and without comment, The John J. Audubon Humanitarian Award goes to SPE.

Congratulations, winners.

Tim Arnold is a senior majoring in communication arts and English.

Readers' Forum

Campusquote

"The ECAC conference has ruled that throwing streamers or any object onto the basketball court could result in a penalty against JMU. How do you feel about this decision?"

"I feel it's a good rule. It can result in injuries not only to the players, but officials and spectators sitting below."

George Shafer
junior sociology

"It's not right. I can understand why it's hazardous, and it takes time away from the game, but it's a tradition. What's the school trying to do, take away all our traditions?"

John Runger
sophomore business education

"I feel it's taking a school tradition away. We're losing a lot of traditions, such as the hillside and now the streamers, and it ties the students down. It makes them feel like spectators instead of part of the game."

Rob Luskey
junior
communication arts

"It's a good decision because one of the players could get hurt or it could interfere with the game."

Mary Miller
freshman
communication arts

Student responses in Campusquote are not necessarily representative of the entire JMU population.

Compiled by Cathy Sparkman-Photos by Steve Eaton

Dungeons and Dragons It's not real life; it's just a game

To the editor:

There's something on campus threatening staff and students' health. It's linked to thousands of homicides and suicides every year, lives depend on human reflexes for hours at a time.

I'm talking about the automobile, popular transportation for a large sector of Western industrial civilization, and many foolish university students who would rather risk their lives on the interstate several times a year than attend a school much nearer home.

If a game should be banned because "hundreds" out of 2 million players, which is certainly less than half a percent, have a bad experience, then surely we can't abide the presence of these deadly autos either.

Cars aren't likely to be restricted from campus, because they fill a need, even though more economical and safer alternatives exist. The need for entertainment, which role-playing games like Dungeons and Dragons fill, is commonly satisfied by other types of fiction, such as novels and soap operas.

People with interests in those alternatives, and others afraid of change, join in devising ridiculous charges like Satanism and moral stultification.

But the games provide a more expressive diversion than one-way media, because players are responsible for creating their heroes, with unique personalities, characteristics and limitations.

I must correct Marc Sprecher's list of: "monsters" in the game are beings encountered by players' characters. No beginning character could be a wizard, though in time he could become one. Dwarves are a character race; dragons are not. The object of the game is not to "win a treasure" but to make playing decisions appropriate to one's character.

Juvenile players might have competitive tendencies, but the true role-player knows the value of cooperation, and the romantic appeal of a nobly motivated character.

Dungeons and Dragons creates no worlds. This is the job of the referee, who gives life to the beings encountered by characters in their adventures. He might take the role of a dragon, a demon and a shopkeeper in the space of an hour.

The game isn't demonology: it is as irreverent toward mythology and the occult as it is toward popular religion.

If a curse or other malevolent or beneficial act affecting a character is perceived as real by the player, he is obviously mentally unstable. People who have difficulty separating fantasy from reality are not only found at these games: it is just as easy to get lost in a video game or spy thriller and more dangerous, since those activities are undertaken alone.

Dungeons and Dragons must be used responsibly, like television or alcohol, and it can provide a very enjoyable diversion when it is. Sprecher's comments make it obvious he doesn't really know what the game is, so we invite him to join in a beginners' campaign starting now.

Hal Vaughan
senior
communication arts

Tod Hirsch
senior computer science

To the editor:

I was somewhat perturbed to read Marc Sprecher's views of Dungeons and Dragons. His article was filled with inaccuracies.

The goal of the game is not to "win a treasure and by any means possible." The goal is to play one's character as exactly and skillfully as possible. The possibility of assassination is dealt with extensively, but neither it nor suicide are advocated as means for solving one's problems, in the game or real life. And one of the characters, Paladin, resembles in goodness Sir Galahad of the Round Table.

There is a system of magic spells for the wizards to cast. There is very little resemblance, however, between this magic system and Satanism or any other type of occult.

Sprecher claims the game is addicting and causes psychological problems. If a disturbed person plays the game, it is possible he could become addicted to it or that it might be reflected in his psychological problems. This is the same for football and Trivial Pursuit. Reports state that the Michigan State student was unbalanced before he started playing the game. And the "hundreds of bizarre incidents and deaths" that Sprecher cites almost uncertainly involved these unbalanced people.

I have played the game for six years and have never had any functioning problems because of it. I know hundreds of players; they are all sane and realize something Sprecher should too: it's only a game.

Hugh Eckert
junior
data processing

To the editor:

I won't begin to point out the fallacies in Marc Sprecher's "Dungeons and Dragons" commentary, neither am I interested in trying to convince anyone that "Dungeons and Dragons" is a great or lousy game. It is in fact only a game. What concerns me is that Sprecher seems so upset by it.

He makes particular mention of the handbook, in which many methods of killing opposing characters are detailed. This is just a game where imaginary people kill other imaginary people. He decries this fantasy world, and yet he seems obsessed with it.

I direct his concerns to the real world. While he argues the dangers of a game, our government is playing an un-gamelike role in Central America. The manual produced by the CIA instructs real people to kill each other; real blood, not ketchup is spilled in these conflicts. The "game" isn't played by college students over pizza, but by our leaders over a world map. They play it in the name of democracy and the American people, yet we concern ourselves with the advantages and disadvantages of fantasy role-playing games.

But then, that's probably how they want it, anyway.

Michael Seidl
freshman

The James Madison University
Women's Concert Choir and Chorale present

Christmas Vespers

Sunday, December 2 at 3 p.m.

Wilson Hall
Free Admission

PUT US TO THE TEST!

LSAT · GMAT · GRE
MCAT · DAT
GRE PSYCH · GRE BIO
MAT · PCAT · OCAT
VAT · TOEFL · SSAT
PSAT · SAT
ACHIEVEMENTS · ACT

- Permanent Centers open days, evenings, weekends.
- Complete TEST-N-TAPE facilities.
- Skilled instructors and dedicated, full-time staff.
- Homestudy materials constantly updated by Research Experts.
- Low Hourly Cost.
- Transfer privileges to over 120 locations.

NATIONAL MED BOARDS
MSKP · FMGEMS
FLEX · NOB · NPB
NCB · NCLEX RN
CGFNS · CPA
SPEED READING
ESL INTENSIVE REVIEW
INTRODUCTION TO LAW SCHOOL

1985 CLASSES
NOW FORMING

Stanley H. Kaplan EDUCATIONAL CENTER

TEST PREPARATION SPECIALISTS SINCE 1938
In New York State: Stanley H. Kaplan Educational Center Ltd.

CALL DAYS, EVENINGS & WEEKENDS:
(804) 979-3001
1926 Arlington Blvd.
Suite 200
Charlottesville, Va.
22901

JM's Pub and Deli Beer Fact Sheet

Why Pay Only $2.15 For A Six-Pack of Busch when you can go elsewhere
And Pay More?

	Midway Mkt.	Jiffy 66	JM's	Mr. Flipps	A & P
Bud 12pk	4.99	4.99	4.89	5.29	5.09
Coors 12pk	4.99	4.99	4.89	5.29	5.09
Coors Lt. 12pk	4.99	4.99	4.89	5.29	5.09
6pk	2.29	2.29	2.15	2.15	2.55
Goebels 12pk	2.99	3.29	2.89	3.29	3.18
Lone Star 6pk	1.89	3.99	1.79	3.09	Don't have

JM's Food Specialties:

The Duke - Tender crab meat salad topped with tomato and herb mayo on a sub roll with cheddar cheese. $3.95
The German - Cooked and hard salami with kraut, spicy mustard on a fresh baked onion roll. $2.69
Nacho Supreme Platter - For the hungry at heart. Nacho chips, cheddar cheese, Sandy's Mexican chili, lettuce, tomatoes, jalapenos and sour cream on the side. $3.50

Why pay more for your beer?

Check JM's and see the difference.

A&N

150 S. Main St., Downtown Harrisonburg 434-2375

STOP IN AND VISIT OUR NEW ADDITION

'The Ski Center'

Men's and Ladies' Winter Boots,
Vests, Bibs, Stretch Pants, Ski
Suits, Goggles, Gloves

MANY UNADVERTISED SPECIALS

New Store Hours to Serve You Better:

Mon-Fri 9:00-9:00

Sat 9:00-5:30

The Best Pizza In Town! Honest.

WEEKEND SPECIAL

433-0606

$2.00 OFF
Medium or Large Pizza

Happy Hour Prices on Beer

Offer good with delivery
No beer delivery

Expires Dec 21, 1984

Come by or Have a Pizza Delivered nation

System overhaul may reduce tax rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department's overhaul of the American tax system would slice federal income tax rates, do away with a variety of deductions and double the personal exemption to $2,000.

Treasury Secretary Donald Regan unveiled the plan Tuesday, which needs the approval of President Reagan and the Congress.

It would retain the deduction for mortgage interest on taxpayers' principal residences but limit to $5,000 the deduction for all other interest including that for mortgages on second or vacation homes, said the officials.

The plan would also scrap the special adjustment enacted in 1981 to largely compensate for the so-called "marriage penalty." That change lets two earner couples exclude a maximum of $3,000 from their taxable income.

In all, the officials said 78 percent of individual taxpayers would see their income tax payments fall or hold steady under Regan's nearly yearlong effort to come up with a better way to tax the nation.

On average, American taxpayers would find their federal tax bills fall 0.5 percent, the officials said.

President Reagan ordered the Treasury Department in January to undertake the study in an effort to make fairer and simpler the complicated tax code.

Adoption of wide ranging changes would mark the biggest overhaul of the system since the income tax came into being 71 years ago.

Former FBI employee charged with espionage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI arrested former employee Karl F. Koecher on charges of delivering defense information to aid a foreign government.

FBI Director William H. Webster said Koecher served for 19 years in this country as a so-called "illegal" spy for the Czechoslovakian intelligence service CIS.

From February 1973 to August 1975, Koecher was employed by the Central Intelligence agency as a support or contract employee where he held a security clearance and had access to classified national security information.

Koecher was trained by the CIS as an intelligence officer from 1963 to 1965, the FBI said. He entered the U.S. in 1965.

He is the third former CIA employee charged with spying for the Soviet bloc in recent years.

Dole elected majority leader

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert Dole of Kansas was elected Senate majority leader Wednesday after defeating Sen. Ted Stevens of Alaska for the office.

Dole defeated Stevens by a vote of 28-25, Barbara Smyser, Stevens' press secretary said.

Dole will succeed retiring Senate Majority Leader Howard H. Baker Jr. of Tennessee.

Second tube inserted into Schroeder

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A second tube was inserted into the left side of the chest of William J. Schroeder on Monday to remove fluid that was accumulating during his second day of life with a mechanical heart, doctors said Monday.

Lansing said the tube was inserted in the chest when haziness in Schroeder's X-rays indicated that fluid was accumulating there.

Following his excessive bleeding Sunday night, Schroeder had a single tube inserted into the chest to remove the blood.

Plan to retaliate bombing shelved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. military recently made detailed plans to launch a retaliatory bombing strike in Lebanon in case the American and British embassies in Beirut came under terrorist attack, The Washington Post reported Tuesday.

Shortly before Thanksgiving, it said, the aircraft carrier Eisenhower was ordered to hold her position in the central Mediterranean so she could launch a retaliatory strike if necessary.

Subsequently, the retaliatory bombing plan was shelved because the terrorist attacks did not take place as feared, it said.

The newspaper said Navy preparations extended to flying extra bombers to the carrier and briefing crews on where to strike.

world

Police uncover plot to attack embassy

ROME (AP) — Police said Tuesday that they had uncovered an apparent plot by seven Lebanese members of the radical Islamic Jihad organization to attack the U.S. Embassy with a dynamite loaded truck, the Italian news agency ANSA reported.

The report said the seven were arrested three days ago. News of the arrests was not released until now because the investigation was still under way, the report said.

Islamic Jihad, or Islamic Holy War, is a shadowy organization which has claimed responsibility for a series of attacks against U.S. interests in the Middle East, including the truck-bombing of the U.S. Marine base in Lebanon and attacks on the U.S. Embassy in Beirut.

Chernenko gives opinion on talks

MOSCOW (AP) — President

Konstantin U. Chernenko said Monday the upcoming U.S.—Soviet arms talks should combine the "inter-connected questions" of space weapons and both medium range and strategic missiles.

Chernenko said the Soviet Union is placing great importance on the preliminary discussions set for Jan. 7—8 in Geneva between Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and Secretary of State George P. Shultz.

British diplomat killed in India

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — A British diplomat was shot and killed by one or more unidentified attackers as he walked to work in Bombay Tuesday, the British High Commission said.

Percy Norris, Britain's deputy high commissioner in Bombay, was shot in the head and the heart shortly before 8 a.m., high commission spokesman Ronald Nash said.

NOVEMBER 30 DEADLINE

No further Contract Exchanges or requests for Room Changes will be made after Friday, November 30, 1984.

Contact the Office of Residence Life, 103 Alumnae Hall (x-6489) for questions concerning this deadline.

OPEN

24 HOURS

RESTAURANT

FOR THE MIDNIGHT MUNCHIES:

Early Bird Special

(Served 10:30 p.m. - 6:30 a.m.)
2 Eggs, Toast, Unlimited Coffee

99¢

Across from I-81

Visa & Master Charge Accepted

state

Virginia professors return from mission

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Virginia college professors have returned from Czechoslovakia with hundreds of unseen pages of the writings of poet Jaroslav Seifert, an aging dissident who won the Nobel Prize last month.

Hampden-Sydney College's Paul Jagasich and Tom O'Grady left Nov. 17 on the secret mission. They made no progress for two days after their arrival in Czechoslovakia. Contacts weren't at prescribed addresses. Phone numbers were not working. Libraries had none of Seifert's works. Librarians said to come back in a few weeks.

Then just when the mission seemed a bust, said O'Grady, Seifert's address was provided by the Swedish ambassador.

Eventually, O'Grady and Jagasich caught up with Seifert at a hospital, where Seifert was being treated for heart problems.

O'Grady borrowed hundreds of pages of Seifert's poetry and memoirs — later duplicated on a machine at the U.S. Embassy — scores of contacts, among them the Czech translator of William Styron's "Sophie's Choice."

"The Casting of Bells," the only volume of Seifert's poetry published in the U.S. had been smuggled out of Czechoslovakia in the mid-1970's strapped to the leg of a British Embassy employee.

Without the translation by O'Grady and Jagasich, the Nobel committee would have been unable to read the book.

Warden says Landon is scapegoat

NOTTOWAY (AP) — The warden of the Nottoway prison where five inmates escaped Thanksgiving Day says outgoing Virginia Corrections Director Robert M. Landon is a scapegoat for mistakes made by Gov. Robb's administration.

In addition, warden David A. Garraghty said Monday he was taking steps to shore up security at the Nottoway Correctional Center, including adding two guards to one shift.

Garraghty said decisions about the security of Virginia's prisons are being made by desk-bound bureaucrats with a "lack of experience, education and training" in prison work.

Landon's resignation was announced Friday, the day after the escape from Nottoway.

Garraghty said "any of the three" security measures he had requested previously — fence sensors, closed-circuit monitoring cameras, or a catwalk around the main tower — would have prevented the escape.

Air pollutants to be target of program

RICHMOND (AP) — Air pollutants will be the targets of a new state program set to begin next week.

The program will start as a pilot project involving 220 companies identified as major sources of air pollution in Virginia and most likely to emit any of 61 substances deemed most hazardous to human health.

The 61 substances include cancer-causing compounds and toxic heavy metals such as lead.

On Jan. 1, Melinda Osborne, program coordinator, will send out questionnaires to about 70 companies — the first batch of three groups making up the 220 targeted companies.

The questionnaires will ask how much of each of the 61 compounds the companies emit. When the air board receives that information, it will determine whether the emissions pose a threat.

Testing to begin at army base

FREDERICKSBURG (AP) — The Environmental Protection Agency and a firm hired by the Boy Scouts of America will begin testing for dioxin contamination today at a U.S. Army base where the Scouts held their 1981 Jamboree, the Army said Tuesday.

The tests will be conducted concurrently by the EPA and the private firm to determine the outline and depth of the contaminated area at Fort A.P. Hill, where the Scouts also plan to hold their 1985 national gathering.

Maj. Jay A. Craig, a spokesman at Fort Lee, A.P. Hill's parent installation, said the testing will center on the storage shed at the base where the dioxin-containing herbicide Silvex had been stored from 1972 to 1978.

Silvex was used until 1972 at A.P. Hill to clear an artillery range and areas for training of National Guardsmen. The leaking drums of the compound were repackaged and removed in 1978, Craig said.

by the way

Men seek way to fulfill bet

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Mayor David Coeyman and former Somersworth Mayor George Bald are negotiating with an animal farm for an elephant ride to settle a Great American Smokeout day wager they lost.

The two Democrats lost a bet Thursday when Republican Executive Councilor Peter Spaulding of Hopkinton went through the day without a cigarette.

The bet had been that if Spaulding smoked he'd have to ride a Democratic donkey; if he did not, Coeyman and Bald would ride a GOP elephant.

Two years ago, Bald lost a similar bet to the then-Mayor Raymond Hennessey of Dover and had to walk down the street in long woolen underwear. Last year, Coeyman lost the bet to Bald and had to give him a rickshaw ride in Concord.

Pair trapped inside house by goat

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — It wasn't a billy goat, but it sure was gruff — just ask Vera Miles and her 4-year-old granddaughter.

The pair were trapped inside Mrs. Miles' house for about an hour Friday by a female goat that kept butting the front door and threatened to bite the occupants each time they tried to leave.

The cantankerous nanny, which stood 3 feet high at the top of her horns, "was bigger than any dog," said Marion County Sheriff's Deputy James Curry, who rescued grandmother and granddaughter.

Twins share birth experience

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Robert Gomes and Jack Gomes are identical twins but usually don't do everything alike.

But a few weeks ago the 23-year-old twins' newborn babies — one boy and one girl — were delivered less than an hour apart at Seton Medical Center.

While the couples had joked about the possibility of a new set of identical birthdays, said Robert's wife Tamra, "We never thought this would really happen."

All-You-Can-Eat
"BUFFET SPECIALS"

Featuring Barbecue Pizza and Taco Pizza

Thin Crust Pizza, Deep Pan Pizza,
Spaghetti, Salad Bar, Soup and Garlic Bread

Mon. - Sat. LUNCHEON 11:00 A. M. - 2:00 P. M. $2.99	Mon. - Thurs. NIGHT 6:00 P. M. - 8:30 P. M. $3.29
Sunday Lunch $3.59

$1.50 OFF

Any Large Pizza

Expires Jan. 1, 1985

PIZZA INN

$2.50 OFF

Any Giant Pizza

Expires Jan. 1, 1985

PIZZA INN

Pizza Inn

1588 S. Main St.
433-2644

CASH & CARRY FOODS

National Beer 6pk cans	$1.39
Goebels Beer 6pk cans	$1.49
Coors Beer 12pk reg/lite	$4.79
Budweiser Beer 12pk reg/lite	$4.79
Miller Beer 12pk reg lite	$4.99
Lowenbrau Beer 6pk light dark	$2.99
Busch Beer ret. btls. (24)	$8.69 case plus deposit
Family Pak ground beef 3 lb. or more	99¢ lb.
Hyde Park Apple Sauce 16 oz.	3 for $1.00
Miracle Whip Salad Dressing qt.	$1.79
Planters Cocktail peanuts
regular, dry roasted, unsalted, spanish 12 oz.	$1.69
Canada Dry Mixers 28 oz. all varieties	59¢

